Dear Friends

Hearing Nat King Cole singing `Autumn Leaves start to fall,' and with daylight becoming shorter, our minds begin to move into thinking that we need to take the foot off the pedal a bit more to appreciate the beautiful autumn colours and the change in nature around us. However, the pace of life and the things that often take up our time, even if we resist the appearance of Christmas in the shops, make us feel guilty if we want to admire the autumn sunsets or notice the smells of autumn, or the light changes, as we rake the never ending supply of fallen leaves.

Autumn can see for some people the onset of mood change as the nights lengthen and people are less active or seen as the temperatures drop, deepening a sense of isolation and loneliness. All the more reason to be aware of our neighbours and to try and make contact with those who may live on their own to offer a little warmth of friendship and support. It is also important that we take care of ourselves, especially our mental health, and as autumn is a season replenishing the earth with leaves that fall and wild life gathering for the winter, so we need a bit of replenishing and time for others as well as for ourselves.

Traditionally during the autumn churches are decorated beautifully for the Harvest Festival Thanksgiving that is offered by the local farming, horticultural, growing and retail communities for God's goodness to us reflected in the harvest of people's skills, energy, dedication, commitment, creativity and enterprise. In the thanksgiving is also a pledge to share what we have and to be generous within our lives with those particularly are in need, or who are struggling locally or across the world.

With our eyes fixed on the tasks in hand and our minds consumed by worry or the tasks that are piling up to attend to, it is quite possible to let Autumn exist but slip by without allowing it to replenish and inspire us, giving us permission to stop and take in the sights, smells and beauty of the season.

Every blessing.

Tony

Lewis and Hannah (née Sterritt) Rigley after their wedding at Holy Trinity Church on a gloriously hot day on 10th September.

SHELDON JOTTINGS

In conversation with a Doncastrian we were told that 'winter comes in on the back of the last horse of the St Ledger!' The saying was certainly true this year as directly after the race meeting ended the weather turned from warm and sunny to cool, cloudy, wet and windy, with only the occasional sunny interval, and has been so ever since. Perhaps not winter but certainly autumn is with us - meteorologically speaking - on the 21st. Apart from a few stragglers, the swallows and house martins have left us and the gardens and landscape are taking on that autumnal look with berries on the bushes, fading flowers and the leaves on the trees just beginning to turn to those beautiful autumnal colours.

The grey squirrel(s) is getting bolder and we have seen it in the garden and in the street where it was suddenly spooked and dashed up the trunk of one of the trees so, so fast.

Hannah Sterritt and Lewis Rigley were married in Ashford Church on September 9th, just escaping the change in the weather. Hannah lived for much of her early life with us here in Sheldon, attending Lady Manners School before leaving to go to university.

The reception took place at Manor Farm and the sun shone and the sky was blue and for September the weather could not have been better. We wish the couple a happy and successful future together.

This year an unusually large number of villagers reached an age with a nought on the end. There were several 70 and 80 year olds and this month Andrew L reached the grand old age of 30 and Claire celebrated her 50th birthday. Congratulations to them both, and best wishes to all our decadians (yes, we made the word up!)

It is perhaps worth mentioning the Repair Cafés which are now happening in various villages. The Bakewell one takes place on the 4th Saturday of the month at the Methodist Church Hall. So if you think you have something that perhaps could be repaired rather than thrown away, then do go there first to ask.

There will be a Parish Meeting on Tuesday October 10th. We are lucky here as we can all have our say on any subject and unlike elsewhere in local government we all have a vote. As usual there will be plenty to discuss and it provides a great opportunity to have a chat with friends and neighbours. We hope everyone will make an effort to attend and look forward to seeing you there!

As the Harvest Church Service has been cancelled on Sunday 1st
October, a smaller Harvest Service will be held before the Pea and Pie Supper on Wednesday 25th October in the Cock and Pullet.

DIARY DATES Tuesday 10th October - Sheldon Village Hall at 7.30 pm – Parish Meeting Wednesday 25th October – Cock and Pullet – A small Harvest Service before the Pea and Pie Supper

Ashford WI

In September we were delighted to welcome back Mike Higginbottom as our speaker. On this occasion he entertained and informed us with his talk, "The Big Apple", an account of the history and architecture of New York. From Ellis Island to Central Park, Mike told us interesting facts and showed us lovely photographs. He left both those of us who had visited New York before and those who had never been, keen to acquaint themselves with "The Big Apple" (preferably with Mike as our guide!).

Also in September several members went to The National Arboretum. Here is Joyce's account of their day:

Lest They Forget

Imagine a day interspersed with laughs and silliness, a train ride starting with giggles but ending in silence, a walk among memorials dedicated to those from the services who have been killed and pondering the endless sadness, heart aching sorrow and utter waste of war.

The above medley of emotions was experienced when eight lovely ladies from Ashford in the Water WI visited the National Arboretum in Alrewas. Staffordshire.

In 1994 an appeal was launched to fund a year-round national centre of remembrance in the UK, to ensure we never forget those who have served and sacrificed their lives. Only two years later the first trees were planted in former gravel workings bordered by the Rivers Trent and Tame. The story of the Arboretum had begun.

Opened in 2001, the Arboretum now contains at least 25,000 trees and 400 memorials representing the Navy, RAF, Army, the Police, Doctors, Nurses, Dentists, animals and many more who have served our country. In a quiet, tucked-away area stands a moving memorial to those Poor Souls, Shot at Dawn who are also remembered.

During the following years a hill was built in the centre of the site and the Armed Forces National Memorial was created. The monument is striking with its white, semi-circular walls. Walking up steps you pass between tall topiary trees, standing as if to attention. A central courtyard opens in front of you and you see names engraved on the walls. They are the names of all those who lost their lives on duty or in an act of terrorism since the end of the Second World War. Already there are over 16,000 people represented.

Bronze statues telling the story of war are placed against the wall on either side of the central area. At the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month each year, a gap in the curved walls allows a shaft of sunlight to shine directly through onto a huge, central bronze wreath. Stewards tell the story of the sculptures, explaining everything they represent. It is moving, emotional, calming and terrible all at the same time.

The stillness and beauty of the place, combined with the horror and sadness of all that pointless loss made our visit one that none of us will ever forget.

Thornhill House

We are writing to ask for your support for your local care home. Many of you will be aware of Thornhill House in Great Longstone. It is a 19 bed Care Home run by a charitable trust on a 'not for profit' basis. Molly Thornhill founded it to provide a Home for people in the local community so that no one had to move away from their local friends and families to a Care Home far away. This continues to be central to its aims. In the past year, in response to identified need, respite care is available.

Covid had the inevitable effect of semiisolating the residents of Thornhill House from visitors and the community. Outings were curtailed, no volunteers were allowed in the home and consequently the activities program for the residents was much reduced. Now that the home is fully open again, we are very keen to expand our program of activities for the benefit of all the residents. We are looking for volunteers to help and join in with this. Many of our residents benefit greatly from the support and encouragement of volunteers. You may well learn a new craft in doing this or take part in new games and enjoy quizzes. And you will certainly be very much appreciated by staff and residents alike. We are always open to new ideas for activities, and we would love to hear about any from you. Also anyone interested and willing to give relevant talks or presentations will be very welcome.

In addition, there are some residents who have few visitors. If you could give time to visit every so often, that would be very welcome.

For more information on any aspect of the above or if you have any other questions about Thornhill House, please contact Claire White, Administrator at administrator@thornhillhouse.org.uk or telephone 01629640034

Bakewell and Ashford Film Society (BASH)

THE WOMAN KING

SUNDAY OCTOBER 8th 2023

7.30 pm at the Medway Centre, Bakewell

The Woman King is the remarkable story of the Agojie, the all-female unit of warriors who protected the African Kingdom of Dahomey in the 1800s with skills and a fierceness unlike anything the world has ever seen. Inspired by true events, The Woman King follows the emotionally epic journey of General Nanisca (Oscar®-winner Viola Davis) as she trains the next generation of recruits and readies them for battle against an enemy determined to destroy their way of life. Some things are worth fighting for.

BASH's aim is to meet in a friendly atmosphere showing a variety of new, classic and foreign films. We give an introduction to each film and refreshments are served during an interval. Accessibility is important to BASH: The Medway Centre is wheelchair friendly and we provide film subtitles and a hearing loop. You can join BASH Film Society via our website, sign up on the night or you membership telephone the can Thrower 01629 secretary Joy 814863. Membership is £24 for 10 As a member of the film society you will also be entitled to borrow for two weeks any DVD or BluRay from our ever growing library of films (see www.bashfilms.org.uk). We look forward to welcoming you on Sunday October 8th at 7.30pm.

A notice from Ashford in the Water Parish Council:

No Parking Notices

Parking continues to be a significant problem within the village: the penalty of living within a much sought-after area which attracts many visitors on a daily basis. The parish council has been made aware of the increasing number of 'no parking' notices appearing outside residents' homes. Whilst it is very frustrating when visitors park directly outside your property, may we remind residents that you cannot prevent members of the public from doing so. Any member of the public is entitled to park on a public highway where it is safe and legal, and should not be challenged or reprimanded.

Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

Farming News

We have had our first disaster

barley so other crops such as maize are now being sown rather than rape. In fact on a recent journey to Surrey last weekend we saw only a couple of fields of rape and both were very patchy. Obviously this will make the price go up but we have to persevere and grow it for the oil business. Fingers crossed second time around.

We still have some oats to combine on the A6 going up to Buxton past the fish ponds. This crop has done very well and looks well but we could just do with a good dry week to get it in the barn. We have been told we are to expect a late Indian summer but are still waiting. Fingers crossed it will get better in October.

POETRY CORNER

Many thanks to the reader who submitted this poem:

THE BROKEN SOUL

They thought that I was down and out
They thought that I was done
The more they kept me on the ground
The more I looked towards that sun

And as those rays of light shone down
To warm my aging face
I found my shoulders rise once more
As I stood in humble grace

No tears, no regrets, no shattered life Will destroy my battered soul

Instead I'll fight and pursue each dream As I move towards my goal

The ridicule, the words of harm The insults and the pain Endured by a man whose defiant spirit Fights back to erase his shame

When a man is lost and feels all alone He must look within himself And rid his thoughts of any doubt That his life is blessed with wealth No gold, no silver to weigh him down Only pennies small and few But in his heart he carries the belief That his life can be renewed

Blows and strikes may knock you over In a life that's tough and hard But a winner will find inside his mind The strength to rebuild his guard

So look towards that sun my lad When your battles near their end And remember this as you rise again That a broken soul can mend

POT LUCK

Canadian Butter Tart

Thank you to Elizabeth Stone for this tasty seasonal recipe from Canada. It makes a great dessert or teatime treat.

Makes 20 mini tartlets.

Ingredients:

1 375g pack of ready rolled pastry (puff pastry works well)

75g unsalted butter

2 tablespoons cream or milk

1 teaspoon vanilla essence

200g light or dark soft brown sugar

200g sultanas

1 egg beaten

1 tbsp flour

Lightly grease cupcake baking trays with capacity for 20 tartlets. Using a round pastry cutter cut 20 rounds of pastry and line the trays.

Melt butter in small saucepan. Remove from heat and add sugar, then milk and egg. Add the other ingredients, return to the heat and boil for 2 minutes.

Spoon the sauce mixture into the cases, without overfilling.

Bake at 180°C for 20-30 minutes, until pastry is nicely browned.

Serve warm or cold. Goes well with cream or ice cream.

Optional – garnish with half a pecan or half a date.
